-An old negro trading in one of our dry-goods stores yesterday received three new silver quarters in change: "Am it come to dis? Boss, I love Grant, but if you ebber run for de president, be it remembered dis nigger supports you to de best of his ability," and quietly left.

- We call the attention of the city authorities to the condition of East street, persons going from the old Cemetery to the new, are compelled to go two or theee squares out of the way. East street being impassible on account of a deep gulley, it will cost but little to fix it, and it should be done at one. -The pine-apple season has come. An old countryman was walking slowly up Fayetteville street the other evening when he was attracted by the fragrant smell of this delightful fruit at Roysters' store. He halted and enquired what they were called. A litle smart boy standing near informed him it was "a new kind of pumpkin raised out here in Rhamkat." The reply didn't seem to be satisfactory. The old man led him in Roysters' alley, and when he appeared again he looked like one who would sass you if you even mentioned pumpkin-pie to him.

HOMEWARD BOUND.

BOYDEN HOUSE, FALISBURY, May 19, 1876.

HE DAILY NEWS,

I have been in demand to-day, and really honored. I went up to Statesville this morning, and there I found two fine hote's both of which were determined I should take dinner w th them; mine host of the Lanier said I was welcome -and mine host of the St. Charles said I must go with him, so to make all happy, I went to Old Point and Fortress Monroe on the Lanier and promised the St. Charles, I would come the next time. Statesville is really a fine town and a good deal of enterprise is displayed. The large wholesale store of Wallace Bros. is a neticeable feature and from the immense stock of goods piled up in their store they must do a large business; they are doing a good business and trying the wholesale experiment, and say so far it is a success. There is also a female academy. I did not have time to visit the institution, but all said it was in a flourishing condition and a very excellent school

I hope to visit Statesville again soon, and will then visit the school, The people here all speak highly of the NEWS, and in fact all through this section of North Carolina the NEWS stands par excellence above all other papers. Of course it is early in the sesson to judge of the crops, but all speak encouragingly and say they are good. The breadth of grain sown is greater than last year, and that is a good sign. I returned to Salisbury this evening, and Mr. D. R. Traley, the gentlemanly clerk of the Boyden House, would not let me off-I must go to the Boyden-so here I am. Gentlemen, there is no question about it, you are all gentlemen, and first | price. class landlords. We recommend the the hotels of Western North Carolina to any poor hungry wayfaring man, and if you do not get aldermanic in six weeks it will not be for want of good eating and plenty of attention. To-day there were fine rains in this section, and the streets, and more especially the railroad cars are much more pleasant. Col. Brown, of the National, has been rusticating here for a few days and has enjoyed meeting his old friends in Salisbury. I shall leave for Raleigh in the morning. This, my first visit to Western North Carolina, has been a pleasant one. It is really the garden spot of our State, and when fully developed and thickly settled will rival many of our Northern States. I was surprised and glad to see how much interest the people are taking in the Centennial. Our press is making a sad mistake in not publishing more of the Centennial news. There may be objectionable features, but when we ignored the Centennial, and have no State representation there, have we a right to even express an opinion, especially upon its demerits? The Centennial is the nation's, not Pennsylvania's, and it goes before the world as the exposition of the United see I believe the people are anxious

He is a nice clerk in Raleigh, getting five dollars a week and board, has his hair oil put up at the best drug store in town, spends half of his. earnings in buying her peanuts, apples, candy, and all such luxuries He was out to see her the other night although it was raining, and dark as pitch, he knew the way and stumbled not. She met himat the door with a smile both childlike and bland. She welcomed him in, he was happy. He thought she never looked more beautiful than to night, he sat by her side, a faint smile was seen to hover over his countenance, as he slid his hand gently down in his pocket and fetched forth a bag of gubers, how kind you are to remember me she sweetly says. I think of nothing but thee she gently replies. the bag was soon empty, he was fuil enough for utterance, he clasped her bands in his and began to pour forth words of comfort to her aching heart. Heaven can form no conception of my unadulterated unchangeable love, to be with thee is the only happiness this world affords to my loving heart, he grew more calm, and told her how soon he would be getting ten dollars a week, and then he had something all important to tell her, her beart grew more loving, she knew what he meant, it is leap year she thought and I will fix this thing right now, what space was left between them she rapidly filled up. She gently squezed his little hand, smiled weetly and said, I am thine, and only thine, for better or for worse, the emotions springing from her heart, was too much for her-her head fell over in his lap, he wept for joy, he began to think of the married life, how nice it would be to live with her, when no land-lord would be forever dunning bim, and the weary wash-woman would be at rest, everything furnished, and I am a happy man, the day shall be fixed to night. She gradually recovered, he told her all, she was truly happy, told him how nice it would be to live with him (he grew pale) sister can live with us too, (He got paler) and mother can live with us too, she sweetly said, that settled it, how he ever got his hat and umbrella and went out of the door at the same

The city commissioner carried us out yesterday to see the city quarry. The old radical board of commissioners paid $500 per year for the use of Penitentiary quarry and then only got the refuse stone there they allowed them to have, at the suggestion of the street commissioner Mr. William Andrews, the city quarry was opened, at a cost not exceeding a $100, the amount of stone is inexhaustible, and furnishes all the stone and flagging needed for the city, saving to the city $500 every year. Commissioner Andrews is the right man in the right place, and we propose to give him a more extended notice of his work in another issue.

Mayors Court, Mayor Manly disposed of the following cases yesterday: William Finch, drunk on the street; guard-house. Ed. Harris, colored, larceny; sen on for trial.

Nat Gill and Isaac O'Kelley, violating ordinances; discharged on payment of cost. Solomon Christmas, firing pistol on the street; $10 and costs. Green Daniel, drunk and profane $5 and costs.

Creed Moore. Some of the finest rifle shooting we have ever seen was done by Messrs. Nicholas W. West and N. G. Whitfield last Saturday. Distance 100 yards. The rifle used was Allen's patent, weighs 51 ths. cal. 34. Now that the warm weather is upon us, and fishing rather warm work, why can't we have a rifle club, and meet once a week. There must be lots of fun in it, when men cross the ocean

Mr. Editor :- There is a universal Mr. Editor: —There is a universal complaint throughout this city about the fare between Raleigh and Philadelphia which our ratiroad companies have condescended to fix upon $26.50. Now sir, such a price is outrageous Shall we, because we are Carolinians, be continually excluded from avery advantage of chess. from every advantage of a cheap transportation? Let us compare figures with others: You can travel from Chicago through Canada touch-ing London, Niagara Falls, Toronto, Rochester, Philadelphia, Washington and back to Chicago, more than 1,300 miles for $14.50; Their regular return fare between St. Paul, Mo., and Boston, over 1,800 miles, is but $31.00; and now when we want to go to our great National Festival where North and South, East and West come together to celebrate the birth day of this great, glorious republic, I say is it right to keep us coutherners away from there with such outrapeous railroad fares of our south-ern railroads? Mr. Editor, the putlie most earne-tly desires and hopes that our railroad companies will take the marter up immediately and reduce the fare to a more reasonable and moderate rate to enable those upon whom fate has not bestowed an abundance of carthly possession to go and see their friends and relations and enjoy a trip which not only may be a great improvement to their heal h but also would greatly benefit the commercial interests of North Carolina. Which Shall I Take!

This is often a serious question with the invalid. He finds the mar-ket flooded with proprietary medi-cines, scores of which are recommended as certain cures for his peculiar ailment. He reads the papers, circulars, and almanaes, and finds each sustained by plausibe arguments setting forth its virtues and specific action. The recommenda-tions are as strong for one as another. wrought by one are as wonderful as those claimed to be wrought by an-other. In his perplexity and doubt, the sufferer is sometimes led to reject all. But it should be borne in mind that this condition of things is one that cannot be remedied. In a land where all are free, the good, the truly valuable must come in competition with the vile and worthless, and must be brought to public notice by the same instrumentality, which is advertising. In such a case, perhaps the only absolute proof that a remedy is what it claims to be, is to try it. "Prove all things, hold fast to that which is good?" in the appetalis in which is good," is the apostolic in-junction. There may, however, be stronger presumptive evidence in favor of one remedy than there is in favor of another, and this should be allowed its due weight. A due regard to this may save a vast amount of experimenting and a useless outlay of money. As presumptive evidence in favor of Dr. Pierce's Family Medicines, the Proprietor desires to say, that they are prepared by a new and scientific process by which the virtues of the crude plants and roots are extracted without the use of a particle of alcohol. Not a particle of this destroyer of our roce apters into this destroyer of our race enters into Medical Discovery or Favorite Prescription. This consideration alone ought to certainly rank them high above the vile compounds saturated with alcohol, Jamaica rum, sour beer, or vinegar, which are every-where offered for sale. Again, they are of uniform strength, and their virtues can never be impaired by age They are also made from fresh herbs and roots, gathered in their appro-priate season, when they are flush with medicinal properties. In sup-port of these claims, the following testimony is offered:

NEWARK, N. J.

R. V. PIERCE, M. D.:

Dear Sir—:I have sold a great many of your excellent remedies, and I prefer to sell them before others because they also others, because they give good satisfaction to those who use them. I hear such remarks as 'Sage's Remedy' completely cured me; it is a splendid thing; or, "Pierce's Discovery is just what I wanted; I feel better than I ever did." One of our celebrated singers uses it for strenghening her singers uses it for strenghening her voice, and says "there is nothing equals it;" and so I might give scores of remarks said about your preparations. A colored woman was using your Discovery, and after taking three hottles was completely cured. She, being in the store, said to me, "I don't want no deceous 'round me so leng as I can get the Discovery; it beats all your doctors." And so I go on. I am, most respectfully, yours.

CALL FOR A COUNTY CONVEN-

As Chairman, I am instructed by the Executive Committee of the Democratic Conservative party of Wake county to give notice that there will be held a Convention of the Democratic-conservative voters of the county at the Court House on the 10th day of June next at 12 m., for the purpose of sending delegates to the State and Congressional District Conventions and to consider the structed to call upon the chairman of the various township committees to hold meetings in their respective townships on the 27th day of May in order to appoint delegates to this convention. W. W. JONES, Chairman.

DISTRICT CONVENTION. A Convention of the Democratic-

A full attendance is earnestly desired. Each county will be entitled to one vote for every one hundred votes and fractional part over fifty given for Merrimon in 1872

Gov. Brogden has commuted on a petition for pardon the death sentence of Samuel Austin in McDowell county to imprisonment for life in the penitentiary. MR. BLAINE is a soon man. The New York Sun says he entered Congress a poor man and has served in six Congresses at salaries of three thousand and five thousand a year and now boasts he is "only worth about four hundred thousand dollars." If all this be so Mr. Blaine is evidently not the "honest Injun" for the times the Republican party are looking for.

A SINGULAR rivalry exists between the two daily papers in Danville. They are loudly conservative but as wide apart in policy as the poles. The News minces no words and boldly protest; it is a red-hot paper. The Express calmly smiles at any such policy and earnestly assures the public it will ever keep as cool as the first cucumber of the season. The result is Danville is divided into two factions composed of the red-hots and ice-cools and is in a mint of corufusion and ready for mixing.

DONAN with his foot raised. At the press banquet in Newbern in response to a toast to the press Col. Donan unbuttoned his jaws and struck out as follows: "When I see the magnificent preparations you have made for them, the excursions to the ocean, this grand banquet equaling anything of the kind I ever saw in any city of the land-the ball, the music, the torchlight processionwhen I see all this lavish display of hospitality, and find nearly a hundred members of the Press Association of your State absent, turning their backs on all your kindness, I cannot, I will not, speak in their behalf. I have but one feeling, one sentiment in regard to them. As Nero wished all Rome had but one head, that he might cut it off at a blow, I wish the whole Press As ociation of North Carolina had but one trousersseat and I a forty-mule power Bogardus patent kicking-machine in full play within reach of it." We naturally feel behind us at any such talk as that.

JUDGE CLOUD.

A pretty picture for a law-abiding people to behold. The idea of a Judge sitting on the streets and a stream of vulgarity and filthy slander poured from his mouth against the wife and children of a poor and inoffensive citizen! Can the people of North Carolina stand much longer such vultures roosting where once it was the pride of her purest men to perch? It was a Republican Judge. Oh, yes, of course, and it was a Republican, too, who cracked his head with a propriety of nominating candidates stick for slandering his wife and chiltruly most unfortunate. They elected their Judges and are now after them with a big stick to run them from the bench. There is an easier and better way than this to get rid of them. Let these gentlemen who now have discovered their mistake join hands this fall with the Conservatives at the polls and not only the judiciary but every other office in the State will be purged of its incompetency and men will sit in high places whose robes shall never be dragged in the dirt.

GOVERNOR BROGDEN.

Philadelphia was mum and not a reporter chirped or a paper had a word to say when he attendeded the Centennial, but thanks to John Cole and Hugh Carson, the Governor's name is now in quite extensive circulation throughout the southern States. The Montgomery Mail and Advertiser of the 19th contributes to the Governor scarcely less than a column. It seems the editor knows the boys, John and Hugh, who stole the tan-yard from this State, and took leg bail out of it, and have since been elected to the Alabama Legislature, and whom the Governor refused to make requisition for because for sooth the Legislature was right in the midst of business and he didn't wish to knock the bottom out of the concern by taking away John and Hugh from their work. But, tut, tut, the editor of the Mail and Advertiser isn't grateful at all, and the Governor and Carson and the coal black Cole all suffer alike at the end of his pen. Hear him how he warbles: "We have in our State Legislature a negro Senator who goes by the name of John Jones, and a negro Representative by the name of Hugh Carson, both of Lowndes coun ty. They were indicted in North Carolina for burglary and larceny, but escaped from the authorities and fled to this State. Learning the whereabouts of these criminals the Solicitor of the circuit in which the offences were committed, and a large number of reputable citizens of the county, petitioned to Governor Brogdeu for a requisition on the Governor of Alabama for the delivery of Jones and Carson to the legally authorized representatives of North Carolina. This the model Radical Governor of the Old North State refused to do. He evidently thinks that the talents of Jones and Carson can't be spared from the Republican party just now.

They are needed to rally the boys and hence must be kept out of the penitentiary at all hazards. We are glad to believe that a gentleman and an honest man will be the Governor of North Carolina before the year 1876

comes to an end, and that her pres-

THEY STILL WEAR IT. Years ago in 1817 there was a little paper published in this city by McKethen and Brickell called The Eagle. There were reformers in those days just as there are now. The ancient females now living were then merry girls and they will please remember whenever they say to the young and blooming sisters of this age, "It wasn't so in my young days," that it was so, and to prove it so, we take great pleasure in drawing the documents on them. Of corset is a great pleasure to help any young sister put to rout her cross old aunt. Yes, they laced as tight in those days, and right here in this city, as they do now. In this old paper in 1817 a reformer write; an article addressed to the ladies of Raleigh on the baneful use of the corset. He

"Whether those who use these implements of destruction are apprized of the fact that every one wh outs them on is directly detected; is more than I can say; but I can say bis much, and this I think enough as it carries so much consolation with it, that I never yet saw a lady have on one of these things but what, whet looked attentively, it was easily dis covered. I have frequently seen them in the ball-room laced so tight and panting in such a manner that I have ften thought they would faint, being scarcely able to get their breath What a preposterous notion of ele-gance this! What a ridiculous prac-tice for a rational and refined being! They may some of them, I dare say think that as these destructive jack ets or engines of misery are veiled and covered by the gaudy trappings of dress that by their delicate figure and slender form that the attention of the lover is diverted, that the eye scrutiny is not in exercise, an that they escape detect on from its contrating rays By this managervering, as they recken, they think they constantly add another link to the chain of admiration. But stop my lovely lasses, in your uncorscious and heedles career to the in-alubrious and ransacked region of fancy; let us reason the case together, and hilosophize on the injurious conse-es resulting from this practice. Hon. Daniel G. Fowle.

[Salisbury Watchman.]

This gentleman spent several days in this city last week a tending our Superior Court, being engaged for the defence in the breach of promise case from Davie. His reputation as a great lawyer had preceded him, but our people had never beforese n him. His elegant and courteous manners won for him the universal esteem of our citizens. The appeal for his client in behalf of his wife and child was perfectly everwhelming, and it showed him to be master of the human passions, as well as a great lawyer.

In this connection it may not be miss to allude to his name as a suitable one for a place upon our State ticket, soon to be nominated. We to not remember to have heard him spoken of for any place; but a man possessing his character and ability, gether with his powers as an orato would certainly make a powerful run in the coming campaign.

We are not informed as to his in lination in the matter, but will simply say, that, with Vance for Governor, and Fowle for Lieutenant dovernor, the ticket would be as s.rong, p rha, s as it could be made in North C.rolina We certainly need the services of our strongest and abjest man in this cunvess are opposed to the mon of second and third class ability running for positions of the first class. We trust that the Convention to soon meet in Raleigh, will set prudently in this matter, and give to us such ominees as those above referred to With these two speakers in the field our o'd state would be aroused as it n ver has been since the war.

PHILADELPHIA, May 19 .- At the session of the executive committee on the centennial commission to-day the Sunday-opening question was briefly considered. Mr. George W. Inauguration of a Newspaper Building.

(Biltimore Sun.) The Louisville Courier-Journal of Wednesday appeared as a double-sheet, a considerable portion of which is devoted to an account of the inauguration of the new building recently erected by the proprietors of that paper, which took place on Tuesday. The ceremonies included the inauguration and unveiling of a statue of Geo. D. Prentice, the the Louisville Journal, which grace the principal facade of the building. An address on the life and character of Mr. Prentice was delivered by Dr. T. L. B-ll, an intimate friend of the l ceased journalist, after which came the unveiling of the statue by Geo. D. Prentice, the younger, and its corona-tion by Mrs. Clarence Prentice, after which a requiem was sung. An immense crowd witnessed the imposing ceremonies, including Gov. McCreer and Hon J. B. Beck. Attempt at Suicide.

[Asheville Poincer.] At nom, on Wednesday last, when the jailor at Waynesville went up to the cell of Thomas Moore, for the purpose of carrying him his dinner, he discovered the prisoner standing upright in the middle of the cage with arm of a shirt tied round bi neck, the garment being drawn tigh over the top of the cage. His blanked was thrown over his head and around his shoulders. His custodian releas-ed him from his uncomfortable posttion, and fearing he might make another attempt upon his life, hand cuffed and removed him to a room down stairs. Moore is charged with stealing a pistol from Mr. Burton Smathers, and also of robbing school house on Crab Tree.
